

Prof. Mark Lautens

University of Toronto

Mark Lautens, born in Hamilton, Ontario, received a Bachelor of Science degree with distinction from the University of Guelph in 1981 where he worked with Professor Gord Lange. He then moved to the University of Wisconsin–Madison for his PhD (1981-1985) working with Professor Barry M. Trost. Following graduation, he was enrolled in a NSERC postdoctoral fellowship at Harvard University (1985-1987) in the laboratories of Professor David A. Evans.

In 1987 he was appointed as an NSERC URF assistant professor at the University of Toronto and was promoted to professor in 1995. Since 2012, he has held the rank of University Professor, awarded with the J. Bryan Jones Distinguished Professor position later in 2013.

For a more detailed CV please visit:

<https://sites.chem.utoronto.ca/chemistry/staff/ML/mark.php>